Barring Out. For what purpose are school houses built? What is the intention of an education and for what purpose are teachers employed? If we are not mistaken, school nonses are built for the convenience and comfort, both of teachers and scholars; the intention of an education is that we may breathe a high er and purer intellectual atmosphere, and teachers are, or at least should be employed for the accomplishment of this nob But, alas! they often fail even though they earnestly try. By some, the teacher is thought most competent who gives the children most candy, suffers them to carry Burrek: him to the water, tells them upless they "bar him out" he will not treat,

Editors and Publis hers

The undersigned have begun the publication of a monthly journal, specially devoted to the world of Art—Painting, Sculpture, Architecture, Decoration, Engraving, Enamelies.

ary, 1876, all the right, title and interest that George A. Easterly has in an undi-vided tract of land of Susan Easterly, lying Tennessee, adjoining the lands of James Alexander, James Taylor and others graving, Enameling, and Designing, in all its branches—having in view the double purpose of supplying a complete illustrated record of progress in the Arts, and affording a means for the cultivation of Art-taste among the people. Each number is richly and abundantly illustrated on both steel and wood, and no pains are spared to render this art Journal the most spared to render this art Journal the most varied, elegant, and valuable publication of the kind in the world. It contains the Steel Plates and Illustrations of the Lon-
